

Romania - Erasmus Project

Dances, food, fun and a bit of school work that would summarize Rumania for me. But the best is when I start at the beginning. First take off in Berlin, second one in Vienna we all were super excited. We landed safely in Bucharest, the capital, it's a beautiful city full with history and really antic buildings. In the short stay we had in Bucharest we visited a typical Rumanian village and afterwards the president palace. To learn about the Rumanian back story was really interesting also the furnishing was very stunning. Next on we went on a bus trip to our actual stay for the week Caracal, and all I can say about my host family is those are one of the nicest people I ever met, so cordially, also the other exchange students were fun to hang out with. Besides a very warm welcome from many important people of Caracal/Rumania we visited our exchange school, and one thing I can say I was overwhelmed by their library, in our little town we couldn't even dream of such an amount of topics or years- I wished we could have stayed longer in there. Continuing with the night life I got to know and it was definitely worth. On the following days we had to build a European village, everyone could somehow bring in there aspect, if its the buildings or the village decoration, we also learned one pretty popular Romanian dance. It was over all an amazing time being there I really loved it and of course I also wished the oje week could have been a bit longer to learn even more about the people there. But in the end, it's also good to be back in Germany again.
